THE SENTINEL.

WAR OF RACES.

The war of races into which venal demagogues are seducing the colored people of the South, presents one feature, which should engage the attention of those who are thus cruelly victimized. Let not any temporary or local strength, deceive the black people, and engage them in such a conflict; for in a very few years they will be reduced every where to a helpless minority; and placed at the mercy of men whom they are teaching to hate them. Governor Brown well explains this in a late speech, thus:

You should remember that as soon as this political question is settled a large number of people from other States of the Union and other countries will come here, and settle among us. Nearly all who come will be white men. This will cause our race to increas in numbers much faster than yours.—Look, for instance, at some of the Northwestern States where twenty-five years ago the country was a wilderness, and now the State has half a million, or a million of inhabitants. They have not been raised there. The great mass has poured in from other places where the population was two thick and filled up the country and made a great State in a few years. But you must recollect there are very few black people among them. So our territory will be filled up after a time with a large population. You will then be greatly in the minority. You can look only to the natural increase of your race, and not to increase from abroad. Doubtless you have noticed since you are free, that you are not increasing as fast as you did before.—You see few young children of your race.—There are causes for this that I now need not explain. I simply call your attention to the fact. It follows then that while a quarrel between us, or a war of races, would be a great calamity to both races, you would be mostly injured by it. Mark this and when any man, whether from the North or South, whether white or black, encourages you to quarrel with us, or to make war upon us, recollect he is neither your friend nor our friend, nor the friend of the country, but he is controlled by selfishness and has some bad object to accomplish.

CORRECTION.

We see by our exchanges that a gross error is circulating to the effect that Judge Barnes at this place last week, adjourned the Court because negroes were summoned as Jurors, and did not recognize the right of negroes to sit on juries. It is not true that any negroes were summoned as Jurors—the panel was made up from freeholders according to the State law, and upon a challenge to the array, upon the ground that General Sickles' order changed the qualification to tax payers, Judge Barnes disallowed the challenge; but as the County Court had not convened since the order to revise the Jury list, he decided that he had not the power to order a Jury of tax payers, and therefore, as it was doubtful whether a legal Jury could then be summoned, it was prudent to continue the cases, so as to afford time to the County Court to revise the list according to the Military order—the Judge recognizing the duty of the Court to conform to General Sickles' order.—Tarboro Southerner.

NORTH CAROLINA GOLD MINES.—An old miner writes to the Charlotte (N. C.,) Times that the gold mine interest in the western part of that State is attracting a large share of attention from Northern capitalists. The hotels are crowded with them, and every train brings mills, engines and machinery to be used in working the mines. About eighteen or twenty stamp mills are up and being erected, four or five of which are now in full operation; and at the Huey mine they have a ten stamp mill, which is now producing $300 in bullion per day. Scientific miners from California, with large experience in gold mining, have examined the mining interests of that State, and have pronounced them equal to the rich valleys and mountain gorges of that famous land of gold.

AN EDITORIAL SNOB.—Governor Worth, of North Carolina, was guilty of wearing a suit of what is called "Confederate Gray," during the recent visit of President Johnson to the capital of that State—to the intense disgust of that superserviceable loyal man, ex Governor Holden of the Standard. It was a great outrage, and not to be tolerated or passed by in silence. When Congress meets Holden should call its attention to the matter at once, in order that the proper legislation may be provided for a future emergency; and if that grave and reverend body hesitate to act, let Gen. Sickles take the responsibility and issue an order prescribing what sort of clothes the people shall wear. Evidently, the fool killer is needed over about Raleigh.—Atlanta Intelligencer.

STEAM ON COMMON ROADS IN FRANCE.—A new locomotive has just appeared in the streets of Paris. The motive power consist, of a two and half horse engine attached to a car made to contain about twenty-six persons. This little locomotive was a few days ago out on a sort of pleasure-trip, and appears to have had a merry race up hill and down dale, and anon on a dead level, at a speed of about eight miles per hour. It is claimed that no difficulty was experienced in guiding or turning this new steed, and as a result or this successful experiment, it is already intimated that lines of steam stages will be established through the French provinces.

The new realm of Egypt contains seven and a half millions of inhabitants. Its capital, Cairo, has a population of 265,000, and Alexandria, its chief commercial city, not less than 170,000. The country is in a very prosperous condition. The importations went up in value from 248,000,000 piastres in 1863 to nearly 500,000,000 in 1864.—During the same time the exports increased from 268,000,000 piastres to more than 1,100,000,000.

By special telegram through the Atlantic cable, says the New York Herald, dated at Constantinople, June 18, we learn that France, Russia, Prussia and Italy have presented a collective note to the Sultan's government, urging a suspension of the war in Canada, and an examination of the situation of affairs on the island by a joint commission appointed by the Great Powers and Turkey.

Law and order have been restored in Birmingham, and the troops were being retired from the town. The cable news report, after having asserted that the entire city was in possession of rioters on Tuesday, and that the streets had then been completely sacked, now speaks of the riot as one which "at one time had a formidable appearance."

MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation free, with likeness and all desired information. If Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction as themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of the price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. WM. E. PELL, | SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

TUESDAY, JUNE 25, 1867.

WHO CAN VOTE IN NORTH CAROLINA?

We intended preparing a specific statement of the various classes of persons who will be entitled to vote at the approaching election, but the recent complications, render this work rather premature. We presume that prior to the issue of the Attorney General's opinion, Gen. Sickles nearly had his plan and his orders completed to commence the registration. Whether he will suspend its publication until Congress meets, or will modify his order No. 18, is not known. According to Order No. 18, the registration in North Carolina will begin on the 15th proximo, it being the third Monday in July next. It will be seen, therefore, that the registration is only twenty days off! And yet thousands of persons know nothing about it, and more than all, thousands do not know, to this hour, who are entitled to vote and who are not. This cannot be definitely determined until Gen. Sickles issues his order, specifically declaring who shall and who shall not vote.

In general terms it may be said, that every male citizen of the United States 21 years of age, and who was 21 at the time of registration, and who has been a resident of the State for —— months prior, shall be entitled to registration, provided they can truly and conscientiously take the following oath:

"I,——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of——, that I have resided in said State for——months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, nor held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrectionor rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

The general principle recognized in the bill is, that no person can register rightfully, unless first, he never did before the late war, hold an office either Federal or State, which required him to take an oath of office to support the Constitution of the United States, and, secondly, afterwards participated in the rebellion voluntarily, or in any way gave aid and comfort to the enemies of the United States, and except those who have been disfranchised for participation in the rebellion or for felony, prior to the registration.

Relying upon the conformity of the District Commanders, to the Presidents Order so far as he approves and makes obligatory upon them the opinion of the Attorney General, we suppose the following list of persons in North Carolina are excluded from registration: All persons who before the rebellion were officers in the Army or Navy of the United States, or who had filled the offices of President or Vice President of the U. States, or Senators or members of Congress or any and all civil offices of the United States, except those appointed Post Masters, mail carriers &c, between the years 1825 and 1861, who as the National Intelligencer states, were not required to take an oath to support the Constitution of the U. States, but simply an oath to perform the duties of the office.

The following State officers, who held office prior to the rebellion, are prohibited from registering: The Governor, Secretary of State, Public Treasurer, Comptroller, members, not minor officers, of the Legislature, Attorney General, County or District Solicitors, Judges of the Supreme Court, Judges of the Superior Court, Justices of the Peace, Sheriffs, Coroners and Constables. We do not include in this list those who before the war were militia officers, or municipal officers, Clerks of Courts, Registers, Wardens of the Poor, County Trustees, Trustees of the University or officers and managers of the Asylums, &c. &c., and who afterwards took part in the rebellion.

The order of Gen. Sickles may not embrace all of the above as disfranchised, or it may include some whom we have excluded. Certainty therefore cannot be arrived at until he issues his order.

The New York correspondent of the Rochester Union says that: "Just before Mr. George Bancroft sailed for Europe, to take his place as Minister at the Court of Berlin, he was at a party where he met Colonel James A. Hamilton, son of Alexander Hamilton. In the historian's last published volume of United States history, he had passed severe censure on General Schuyler, the grand-father of Colonel Hamilton, for his preference of a New York to a Massachusetts regiment, representing him as a coward &c. When Mr. Bancroft went forward and offered his hand in greeting to Colonel Hamilton, the latter haughtily drew back, saying, 'Sir, I do not associate with slanderers!' Mr. Bancroft seems to have pocketed the affront."

APPEARANCE OF THE CHOLERA.—The cholera is beginning to make its appearance in this country. Three deaths from cholera occurred in New Orleans during the week ending on Tuesday, and in New York a case occurred on June 1st, terminating fatally, and one on Tuesday, which is still under treatment. In Philadelphia the epidemic has not yet appeared.

THE GREAT QUESTION.

The real question of greatest interest to our people, is not so much our present poverty, the impoverished condition of our people generally, arising from our losses by the war and the large amount of labor in agricultural and other pursuits lost by the results of the war, or the small crops arising from this cause or bad seasons, but the great question is, how long shall the Southern people remain fettered,—how long shall our political situation remain in incertitude and doubt, arising from the conflicts between the different departments of the government, and the delays occasioned by these differences in restoring the South to peace and order and civil liberty.

We told an intelligent war Democrat of the North, who still adhered to his party organization, eighteen months ago: What the South needs, is a settlement of its difficulties with the government and the nation, at the earliest possible period. We prefer and believe it would be best for the whole nation and for the South, to have the difficulties settled upon the fundamental principles laid down in the Constitution. The South is ready and anxious for that, but if that cannot be, it is best to have them settled at once on any plan which would guard the civil rights without the sacrifice of the personal honor of the Southern people.—Now, said we, the South is between the upper and the nether mill-stone, i. e. between the partizan pressure of the Radical party on top and the Democratic party at bottom. You are both so intent, the one upon holding the reins of power and the other upon getting hold of them, and withal are so vindictive towards each other, that rather than yield an inch on either side, for the sake of peace and settlement, between you, you will crush the South to powder.

That which we predicted has been nearly accomplished. The Anaconda, party spirit, has well nigh crushed the life out of the South. Do you hear of poor widows and children suffering for bread—age and infancy alike on the borders of starvation?—Do you hear of wasted and unfenced farms, closed workshops, factories, mills, mines—Railroads unable to pay expenses, men and women looking despondingly into the future, and squallid poverty and starvation staring four-fifths of the population in the face? Don't charge it to the vindictiveness of Providence, who visits us with harsh displeasure and lays on the rod without mercy. Don't charge it to idleness, to the natural and necessary results of a bloody and necessary war. Don't charge it to short crops. It is all chargeable to the rigorous, unfeeling, devilish spirit of party politics; to the delays of the government to settle down the nation upon some safe, reliable and stable condition, which would give hope, certainty, confidence and reliance to the people as to their future. What can people do under present circumstances?—What is the little enterprise and capital worth which is left us or the labor which we have, only for the present? What calculations can a man make beyond the present? Where can he look, where can he go, in all the South with any hope of doing anything, in such a condition of uncertainty, doubt and danger?

Here is the difficulty. If we had the voice of a trumpet, we would arouse the country with our pleadings, to settle these doubts. Give us a fixed, reliable condition of things, or our people, black and white, must perish before the ravages of starvation and ruin. But more than this: This state of things bodes crime, ruin, before starvation, and this will close the scene, if help does not come soon. Then upon whose shoulders must rest the consequences?

For the Sentinel.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Raleigh, June 22d, 1867.

Editors Sentinel:—The General Assembly, on the 1st of March 1867, passed a resolution in the following words viz:

"That in all cases when a soldier in the Confederate or State service has had a leg or arm so paralyzed from wounds received while in the service, that the leg or arm has become useless, although it may not have been necessary to amputate the same, that in all such cases, when the Governor is satisfied that the leg or arm of the person above described really is useless, that the Governor shall order the Treasurer to pay to such invalid the sum of seventy dollars as commutation for the loss of the leg, and fifty dollars for the arm."

To enable the disabled men, intended to be provided for under this resolution, to get the benefit of the same, without coming to Raleigh for personal inspection, I sent a copy of the resolution to each of the clerks of the County Courts, and thought I would sufficiently protect the Treasury in giving my warrant on the Treasurer, upon the certificate of the clerk of the County in which the applicant resided, that he fell within the provisions of the resolution. Printed blank certificates were prepared and sent to the clerks which adopted the words of the resolution. After several applicants had sent in their certificates and drawn the money, I found that many benevolent clerks construed the word "useless" as synonymous with "impaired;" and some drew money, when the injury very slightly impaired the limb. I felt it my duty to revoke the rule of paying upon the certificates of the clerks, and to require all applicants to come here in person. I construe the words "paralyzed" and "useless" as they are defined by Webster and other approved lexicographers.

I publish this construction to save parties the trouble of making application in cases where the law, as I construe it, does not authorize me to do anything for them. Editors of newspapers will no doubt do a service to the parties interested in the above, by publishing this or briefly stating its contents.

JONATHAN WORTH,
Governor of North Carolina.

A merchant doing a large busines in Lynn, Mass., had for some time been greatly harassed by business complications, which almost drove him to distraction. At last he took an account of stock, and decided to retire. All the details of his business were attended to and closed up with the most sedulous care; and when at last all was complete, the gentleman went calmly to the insane asylum at Somerville, and presented himself at its door in the character of a patient, saying he had staved off insanity as long as he could. In less than an hour he was a raving maniac and the extreme expedient of a straight jacket had to be resorted to to prevent him from committing the most violent acts of madness.—N. Y. World.

STATE ITEMS.

—— The Wilmington Dispatch says that the examination of the charges against Col. J. P. Foster, Collector of Customs at Wilmington, has ended satisfactorily and that he has resigned. Is that all? Was it the object of those who made charges to force him to resign or if they were proven, is he to be let off on condition of his resigning?—We learn that several want the place, and we hope the government will be cautious next time.

—— The Henderson Index, whose editor has visited the schools recently, says of the Louisburg male school conducted by M. S. Davis, Esq., assisted by Mr. H. E. Shepherd, a son of Judge Shepherd, of Fayetteville:

"This excellent and ably conducted School is fast gaining public favor and confidence, and we hope may receive that evidence of appreciation which its merits demand."

Speaking of Miss Ward's school at Franklinton, it says:

"We congratulate Miss Ward upon her success, and wish her efforts to establish a female school of a high grade, will be fully appreciated and sustained."

Of Mr. Neal's school at Franklinton it says:

"The exercises of the Male Academy closed Thursday evening. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Babb, of Gates Co., Rev. W. B. Wellons delivered the Annual Address. We regret our inability to attend. The Rev. G. W. Neal, who is Principal of this Institution, is a gentleman of large experience and ability."

—— The Tarboro' Southerner says the business of Tarboro' is flourishing; especially those houses which advertise in the Southerner.

—— The Wadesboro Argus thus speaks of the heavy rains in that section:

On Sunday last this immediate section was visited by another heavy and destructive rain storm, heavier, it is said to have been, than those mentioned by us a week of two ago. For three hours, from 8 to 11 A. M., the rain fell in torrents, beating down small grain not yet cut, also corn and cotton, and washing lands. We hear of great destruction on all sides of us in consequence of the creeks and branches being unusually swelled, and of large quantities of wheat in the shock, left in the low grounds, floated off, and fences swept away.

—— The Asheville, News says:

A sable witness being examined at this Court was asked if some of the parties had not been posting him as to what he should swear to; when he replied:

"They can't get me to swear false 'cause they ain't none of my kin."

—— The Wadesboro Argus has the following:

A friend writes us that he saw last week some cotton stalks from Marion district, S. C., that measured 21 to 24 inches in length and full of "forms." No doubt there are "blossoms" in that district ere this. The same correspondent also mentions oats growing on a gentleman's plantation in the same district measuring six and a half feet in height, and finely headed. He adds:—"Marion is a great country anyhow—rich land, pretty women, and clever fellows."

—— The Wilmington Journal, speaking of old Frank Johnson, says:

"Our typographers, in acknowledging a serenade tendered some nights since, stated that they were indebted to John Johnson's band for the favor, and that old Frank, so well known to us all, had retired. This is a mistake. The old gentleman, though well advanced in years, asserts that he is still pursuing his old vocation at the head of his old band, and will furnish the young people of the present generation with as good music, and play at their dances with as much spirit and avidity, as he has done in times past for their parents and grandparents.

—— The Wadesboro' Argus says: "We regret to learn that Jas. T. Smith, son of Col. W. C. Smith, of this County, met with quite a painful but not serious accident, one day last week, on the Richmond side of the road to Wall's Ferry. He was coming down the hill to the Ferry, driving a very fine pair of horses, when the buggy pole became detached, the horses became frightened and ran away, almost demolishing the buggy in their mad career, throwing Mr. S. out among the ruins. His head and neck were badly bruised and cut.

—— The Ashville News is responsible for the following:

A Mr. Farmer, of Henderson County, informs us that he had born on his place an animal that was evidently half pig and half goat. The head and shoulders were hog, but the other part of the body was goat.—We believe the stories of the snake and dog men now. Where's Barnum? He ought to have an agent here to gather up the curiosities. We can fill his museum with all kinds of monstrocities, from midnight politicians up to any other unnatural production.

—— The Wadesboro Argus gives the following account of a Red String preacher:

A reverend gentleman of this county, whose avowed connection and active participation with one of the secret political associations said to exist hereabouts, caused great dissatisfaction among members of the churches under his charge, and was doing much to destroy that harmony that should exist among christians, has recently taken occasion to announce publicly his withdrawal from the order he was charged to be connected with.

—— The Ashville News, speaks thus of the progress of art in that region:

Our friend A. H. Polk showed us a few days ago some beautiful specimens of dyeing, which had been performed under a new process. He assured us that the materials were much cheaper, the colors brighter and the time and trouble much less than by the old process, while the fabric dyed receives no injury.

—— The Lincolnton Courier says of the rains of that region:

The terrible rains that have fallen during the past week will ruin the Planting interest on low lands throughout this section of country. Reports received are truly distressing.

—— The Asheville News says of the late rains:

On Sunday last the windows of heaven were opened and poured out another deluge of rain upon Asheville, almost as destructive as that we received a few weeks ago. Gardens suffered considerably, and many of the new fences and bridges were washed off.—We have heard that in some places the wheat was injured.

On Tuesday a similar storm did great damage a few miles west, and, in the language of our informant "almost washed everything away." We have not heard the particulars, but fear the destruction has been very great.

—— The Concord Press says:

The Western Conference of the N. C. Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church will convene in the St. James church in this place on the 28th, 29th and 30th instant.

—— The Wadesboro Argus speaking of the weather and crops says:

From the unprecedented series of rain storms throughout this section, mentioned in this and former editions, our farmers are much behind hand with their crops. The cold and wet of the early spring, put them far back in seeding, both corn and cotton, and after the latter came up much of it was killed off by severe cold "snaps," and had to be plowed over and replanted, some putting back cotton, others substituting corn. As the season advanced, continuous rains delayed the work, giving the grass and weeds a chance to get a start of corn and cotton, and now we hear an almost general cry that they have almost taken possession of them.

—— The Asheville News says of Red Strings and other secret oganizations in that section:

We understand that a large number of these political machines have been put in operation in this County, and they nightly grind in and out a number of dark lanterns for political use, when the managers of this institution shall require them to light them on their path to political glory.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION.—The following Circular of General Sickles will answer the inquiries which have been made in reference to the construction of that portion of General Order No. 32, issued from Department Headquarters a few weeks since, which refers to the retailing of spirituous liquors in this Military District:

HEAD'QRS 2ND. MILITARY DISTRICT,
Charleston, S. C., June 17, 1867.

In the execution of Paragraphs VI. and VII. of General Order No. 32, current series, Post Commanders will be governed by the following instructions:

An Inn is a place where food and lodging are provided and furnished for pay to travelers and sojourners.

Municipal and town authorities may grant to Inn Keepers licenses to sell liquors in quantities less than one gallon to be drank on the premises. In determining the number of such licenses it is expected that due regard will be observed to the actual occasion for tavern accommodations, so that no evasion of the order be permitted by an unnecessary increase of the present number of Inns. In any town where this occurs the authority to grant licenses will be revoked and the licenses granted annulled.

The order does not admit of any construction extending the privilege to apothecary shops, ice cream saloons, eating houses, or other places.

The civil authorities to whom license money has been paid will determine for themselves whether they will refund to licensees the whole or any part of the money received for licenses.

The order is operative on and after the date of its publication. Post Commanders in the exercise of their discretion may extend the time until the first day of July next.

The military tribunals constituted by Circular dated May 15th, 1867, from these Headquarters, will have cognizance of all violations of paragraphs VI. and VII. of General Orders 32, current series. The proceedings will be forwarded by the Post Commander to these Headquarters for review and final action.

Where by law or municipal regulation the proceeds of licenses are devoted to the maintenance of common schools open to all without discrimination against color or caste, the proceeds of the licenses now authorized may be applied either to such schools or to the support of the poor, in the discretion of the civil authorities.

All laws or parts of laws or municipal regulations inconsistent with the provisions of General Orders 32, or of this Circular are suspended and will be deemed and held inoperative.

The authority to revoke licenses when drunkenness or disorderly conduct is permitted in or about premises where liquor is sold, may be exercised by Post Commander or by any magistrate of the vicinage on proof of offence.

By command of Major General D. E. Sickles.

J. W. CLOUS,
Capt. 38th Infantry, A. D. C. and A. A. A. G.

NEW PROCESS OF MAKING TAR, PITCH AND TURPENTINE FROM PINE WOOD.

The following account, from the New Orleans Crescent, of a new process of manufacturing tar, tupentine, and rosin, will be interesting to the people of North Carolina:

By invitation of the parties connected with the new works, on St. Peter-street, for distilling pine wood, we visited them a few days since, and, thinking it a matter of no little importance to our citizens, especially those who reside at a distance, we have concluded to give them the benefit of our investigation. The works we saw are capable only of distilling one cord per day, being erected merely to show the process and the amount of products that could be realized from a given quantity of wood.—They were in full operation when we arrived, and we will briefly state what we saw and learned from the owner of the patents, who was present:

The retort which contained the wood is enclosed with brick, the top and bottom being alone exposed. From a pipe connected with the bottom of the retort, a stream of pitch was constantly exuding, while from a condenser connected by a larger pipe with the top of the retort, the crude turpentine and pyroligenous acids were running in quite a large stream. These, allowed to settle in a receiver, separate themselves, and the turpentine is drawn off and introduced into a still. From a condenser connected with the still, the clear, pure spirits of turpentine was collected in a receiver ready for market. A good article of rosin was also taken from the still. We never saw a finer article of turpentine, and among the number present was an old manufacturer, who pronounced the process a complete success, and that there was no doubt it would entirely supersede the old way of manufacturing.—After all the crude material has passed from the retort to the condenser, the connection between the two is closed—the fire increased and the wood charred.

The whole thing is simple and yet complete, and we should judge the works could be had at a small expense. The patentee informed us that he has disposed of quite a number of rights, and that the parties purchasing were busily engaged in putting up their works, and would soon have them in full operation. This we were glad to learn, as everything of the kind adds to the future wealth of the South, and we confidently believe that as soon as it is generally known this will become a great and important branch of business wherever there is any pine wood to be found. We take pleasure, in connection with this matter, to state further, that the present state of affairs throughout the South and the great scarcity of money is perfectly realized, and that, therefore, the most liberal terms are given to those wishing to engage in the business. The public will please bear in mind that this process is independent of climate and season, and may be carried on every day throughout the year. We annex a list, as given us, of the average yield by it from one cord of our fat pine wood: twenty-five gallons spirits turpentine, one hundred gallons pyroligenous acid, one barrel pitch, two barrels tar, fifty bushels charcoal.

DIED,

In this city about ½ past 12 o'clock on yesterday, Mrs. MARY J. WHITE, wife of Wm. White, Esq., after a short but severe illness, in the 57th. year of her age.

Few have lived a more quiet, useful life, and the writer has known few more pure, consistent or courageous christians. Difficulties, hard conflicts, invigorated and strengthened her faith and her christian fortitude. When death came she was ready. We mourn not for her, but for those whom she has left behind. She has escaped to the mansions of bliss. O! may those of us left behind, be as ready to go when called, as she was.

The friends and acquaintances of the family are respectfully requested to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. MARY J. WHITE, this afternoon at ½ past 4 o'clock, from the Methodist Church.

ROCKBRIDGE ALUM SPRINGS.

OPEN JUNE 1.

This favorite and delightful watering-place, having undergone thorough renovation, is prepared to receive visitors. The owners have made a very effort in the outfit and equipment to render the place more than ever attractive to those in quest of recreation, while to the invalid its medicinal waters hold out new hopes of health. It may be confidently claimed for them that they have in a great many cases relieved, and in many more cases cured, the following diseases: SCROFULA, and many chronic CUTANEOUS diseases; CHRONIC THROAT, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, CHRONIC DIARRHŒA, DROPSY, AFFECTIONS of KIDNEY and BLADDER, and PILES; and, in connection with the Hot Baths, CHRONIC RHEUMATISM.

As an appetizer, a tonic, and general restorative to an enfeebled constitution, it is perhaps unrivalled amongst mineral waters. The proprietors have engaged for the approaching season

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Ruffin Select School, at Ruffin Station, by Mr. Dameron, opens its next session on the 15th of July next. Mr. Dameron is an experienced teacher.

The Register late the Union Register of Greensboro, has been removed to this city and the first number will be issued on the 4th of July. It is to be a Semi-Weekly, to be edited by D. R. Goodloe, Esq., and it is understood will be the organ of the Republican party in the State. See its notice to advertisers, inviting advertisements for its columns.

Mitchell, Allen & Co., Newbern, N. C., at the N. C. Agricultural House and Hardware Store, are on hand for customers.

Rev. E. G. Gage, A. B., has opened a Classical and Mathematical School, at Marion, Union County, N. C. The course of instruction will be thorough. We presume such a school will be needed and ought to be patronized in that part of the State.

FALSE ALARM OF FIRE—RATHER A SERIOUS HOAX—SOME FELLOW CRIED OUT FIRE WHEN HE SAW NOTHING BUT THE MOON PEERING THROUGH THE TREES.—A very vexatious alarm of fire was made on Sunday night at 12 o'clock, rousing every body from sound slumbers. Every fellow pitched for the scene as if he was intent upon doing something or breaking a trace. The two young Engine Companies and Hook and Ladder Company vied with each other in getting to the scene of action first. "Where is the fire" bellowed a stentorian voice, the reply was, "at the Peace Institute," but soon it was found out there was no fire there, and every one and the Engine Companies besides looked chawed.

We learn that the false alarm was caused by one of two things: First, that it was a little piece of fun in a fellow who wanted to test the agility and promptness of the two young Engine Companies. If so he ought to be bucked and ducked handsomely, and would have been, or will be, if found out.—The other rumor is, that some fellow who had not seen the moon for a long time, was suddenly awaked by the strong light of the moon just after it rose, which came peering through the trees and his window, and thought the town was on fire, and bawled out fire! Some one said, that he wanted the young Engineers to try their speed at putting out the moon. We hope the city will not be disturbed after this fashion again.

LATE RAINS.—The effect of the late rains upon the crops in this section excites very general uneasiness in regard to food. In some cases brick walls in the city have sunk, or been so affected by the rains as to make their standing rather dubious.

ENTERPRISE.—We are glad to see, by his advertisement in the Wilmington papers, that W. S. Battle, Esq., of Rocky Mount, has just completed the rebuilding of the Rocky Mount Cotton Mills, which were destroyed by the Federal forces in 1863. He has greatly improved the machinery and added looms to it, and will be ready to sell number one yarns and shirtings in a few days. Success to his enterprise.

HELPER'S NEW BOOK.—We shall notice in a fitting manner, as soon as we get space, the new book of Hinton Rowan Helper, the author of "The Impending Crisis," which caused such a sensation in '58-59, and which greatly contributed to the success of the Radical party. That book was a mischievous Munchausen affair, but the new book out Herods Herod, in vileness, inhumanity to the blacks and in wickedness. It is thus that Radicalism is running to seed. The friends of Radicalism think radical is a good word because it means progress. Yes, it means progress in what is radically wrong. Helper's new book is the work of a radical and proves it. His new book is a fit sequel to the "Impending Crisis."

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE SCRIP.

Information is frequently called for as to whether this class of scrip is receivable for $2,50 per acre land, and for pre-emption.—Upon inquiry at the General Land Office, it is ascertained that $2,50 per acre (or double minimum) lands are not legally subject to location with agricultural college scrip under act of Congress approved 2d. July, 1862, although the fifth section of said law permits the selection by States, within their own limits, of public lands of that character, provided they shall be computed to the State at the minimum price, and the number of acres selected be proportionally diminished.

It is further understood that this scrip is not receivable for pre-emptions, but it is restricted to selections of "quarter sections" of the vacant public lands which have been duly offered at public sale, and liable to ordinary private entry.—National Intelligencer.

For the Sentinel.

HAMPDEN SIDNEY, June 14, 1867.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Many long and weary years has elapsed since I last had the pleasure of attending a Commencement at this venerable institution, and it was with peculiar feelings of delight and sadness that I again mingled in such scenes. Tempora mutantur, etc., came to my mind, yet the quiet serenity of the old hill seemed much the same. The College building looks just like it used to, only a little more so, and the forests of Scotch broom and "classic shades" had only grown more ancient and sacred.—So that we may hope that Hampden Sidney may long remain gathering in years and honors, as it has remained a nursery of Literature and Religion.

Located in the same village (though not by any means connected) is the Union Theological Seminary, for the education of ministers of the Presbyterian Church. Within those hallowed walls many of the most successful and respected of the Clergy of our own State have been trained,—the Presbyterians of North Carolina having indeed equal charge of and interest in the Institution. The society of the Hill, in which inmates of both institutions freely move, is most refined and cultivated, and the moral restraints of such association and intercourse highly beneficial.

Therefore it is, that I was not surprised to hear the gratifying report of the President, published by order of the Board of Trustees, that not a profane or obscene expression was heard from the lips of any one of the College Students during the session, and that with unexampled fidelity and gentlemanly deportment they addressed themselves to the duties imposed upon them.—Worthy record of the honored old school, (one of the earliest established on the continent, William and Mary, Harvard and Yale only preceding it) nurtured by the care of Patrick Henry and his compeers in years agone, and destined to receive, as it merits, the liberal support of the present day.

But this is not telling of Commencement, is it? It was emphatically published that the "exercises proper" would take place on Wednesday evening, Thursday, and Thursday evening. Then the performances of the "Ugly Club" on Tuesday evening in the College Chapel, were the "exercises improper." However that might be, they were certainly amusing, and afforded an agreeable entertainment to those who laugh, (and I suppose also, to those who do not.) Compliments (over the left) were unmercifully laid on, and the recipients of the honors for ugliness, self-conceit, and smallness were excruciatingly excoriated.

As usual the weather (inevitable topic for poor dunces) was "propitious," and certainly the exquisite moonlight and balmy night-breeze were the most favorable adjuncts to the usual events of such occasions; and I doubt not many improved the opportunity.

On Wednesday evening, the anniversary celebration of the "Union Society" took place. There were two Junior Orations, the Presentation speech accompanying the delivery of the medal for Oratory, the speech of acceptance, and a Valedictory Oration making in all five speeches. The following is the Programme:

JUNIOR ORATIONS.—Jno. R. Sampson, Goochland Co., Va. "The Triumph of American Intellect." Lewis B. Johnston, Salem Va. "Night brings forth the Stars." Presentation of Medal by W. B. Smith, Powhatan, Va. to R. A. Gibson, Petersburg Va.

Valedictory Oration, Chas. H. Scott, Fredericksburg, Va.

It would be unkind to discriminate, yet I may say that the medal was worthily bestowed, and all acquitted themselves well.

The succeeding day was Commencement. The following was the order of exercises.

Latin Salutatory, Chas. H. Scott, Fredericksburg, Va.

"Language the Vehicle of Thought."—Robert A. Gibson, Petersburg Va.

"The Triumph of Truth," Edward R. Stamps, Milton, N. C.

Philosophical Oration. "Philosophy of History," Thomas R. Edmunds, Brunswick Va., Recipient of the second honor.

Valedictory, Willis B. Smith, Powhatan Va., Recipient of the first Honor.

The speeches were well delivered, the Latin in Continental pronunciation.

North Carolina was well represented by Mr. Stamps. The Valedictory was especially impressive from the extreme youth and feminine voice of the speaker, but no less from its tenderness and chaste style.

All commencements are more or less alike, yet there was something peculiarly touching in the kind and highly commendatory address of the President, Rev. Dr. Atkinson, as he delivered the diplomas to the Graduating Class. The reminiscence of the years of separation and disappointment, of hardship and trial since the last commencement, the memories of four years of alternate hope and fear in the arduous labors of which every one of the speakers save the Valedictorian participated, came thronging back, and eyes unused to tears evinced their sympathy.

The anniversary exercises of the Philanthropic Society were celebrated Thursday evening, according to the following programme:

JUNIOR ORATORS.

George W. Walker, Berkley Co., West Va.—"Fanaticism Destructive to Human Happiness."

Samuel Flournoy, Prince Edward, Va.—"Act well your Part—there all the Honor lies."

Presentation of Medal by T. R. Edmunds, Brunswick, Va., to Ed. R. Stamps, Milton, N. C.

Valedictory Oration by Thos. R. Edmonds.

The addresses were well received and heartily applauded, floral honors being lavishly bestowed during this and the preceding exercises. The music which enlivened the occasion was "discoursed" by an amateur corps of violinists and flutists.

So passed away this Commencement, and nothing now shows it but the prints of the horses' hoods around the door, the broken cedar wreaths with which the audience Hall (the College Church) was decorated, and the faded fragments of boquets thrown by partial and appreciative listeners upon the youthful orators. Bless the fair hands and sympathetic hearts of those damsels who thus encourage manly effort. With tenderest recollections of those joyous and fleeting scenes, with many benedictions upon the "time honored walls," and prayers for the future success of old Hampden Sidney, we bid it farewell.

LAND MEASURE.—Every farmer, at this season of the year more particularly, should have a rod measure—a light, stiff pole—just 16½ feet long, for measuring land. By a little practice he can learn to step a rod at five paces, which answers very well for ordinary farm work. Ascertaining the number of rods in width and length of a lot you wish to measure, and multiply one into the other, and divide by 160, and you have the number of acres, as 160 square rods make a square acre. If you wish to lay off one acre, measure thirteen rods upon each side. This lacks only one rod of full measure.

The recent fall of rain in parts of the United States has been excessive. At New York, within the last ten days, according to a report furnished to the Board of Health of that city, six inches depth of water has fallen, which is equivalent to 135,500 gallons to every acre of ground.

THE PRESIDENT IN BOSTON—GRAND MASONIC CELEBRATION—IMMENSE ASSEMBLAGE OF PERSONS.

BOSTON, June 24.

The city is decked in gala costume. The entire population appear determined on a grand holyday. Business is suspended. The inhabitants of the city suburbs, and thousands of people from hundreds of miles distant, are in the streets, crowding the sidewalks, doorsteps, windows, housetops, and every available point from which a view of the grand masonic celebration, in which President Johnson takes a part, can be witnessed.

The masonic procession commenced moving shortly before 12 o'clock. The weather is delightful. Everything is passing off in the most splendid manner

An old lady living in a log house at Fairfield, Lawrence county, Michigan, having been long a subscriber to the New-York "Tribune," had papered the walls with the old copies. Latterly she became disgusted with Mr. Greeley's conduct in the Jefferson Davis case, and determined to rid her premises of the sovuenirs of her former confidence. So she set fire to the papers on the walls and the consequence was that neighbor, Mr. R. T. Miller, was badly burned in saving her life, and in a few minutes there was nothing left of her house but the bare blackend walls.

Immense herds of cattle, it is said, roam at large through the wild lands of Florida and Georgia, and they prove a serious inconvenience to the railroad trains—scarcely a train being run at night without running over various animals, with the risk of being thrown from the track.

A good story is told of a Frenchman who went into a lawyer's office one day and told a clerk that he wanted to look at a "shall." "A shall," said the astonished auditor; "a shall—oh, a will, you mean."—"Eh, bien—it is all the same, a will or a shall."

KNOW THY DESTINY.

MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychometrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. The following is the prize poem to the Confederate dead, for which $300 was offered by H. Rives Pollard, Editor of the Southern Opinion:

Prize Poem to the Confederate Dead.

(Unanimously awarded by the COMMITTEE OF THE HOLLYWOOD MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION, to whom were referred all Poems on this subject.)

TWILIGHT AT HOLLYWOOD.

To-day our maidens gathered here to strew
The early flowers upon the soldier's graves,
In their sweet custom; and at early morn,
Hither they came with blossoms, buds and leaves,
And earnest faces fairer than the flowers.
No grave has been forgotten—all are dressed.
The simple soldier from the distant State
As loved and honored, though perchance unknown
And where he sleeps is beautiful with blooms.
One stayed a little when the rest were gone,
Beside a grave. Quite motionless she stood
Until the paths grew dim, then turned away;
And twilight gathers over Hollywood.
The sun goes down behind a bank of cloud
And dashes all the stormy West with blood,
As dies a hero in a broken cause
When, pouring out his wasted life, he leaves
The land he loved to darkness and defeat.

Far down below I hear the river rush,
And, standing in this city of the dead,
The voice of waters seems a human cry
That rises from the breadth of all the land
Of shivered hearthstones and of broken hearts.

The city, growing sombre in the dusk,
Was lit with splendour forty months agone.
When all our best and bravest gathered there,
A nation's fortress and her capital.
The long streets trembled with the tramp of men,
And rang with shouting and with martial strains;
And up the glancing river came the boom
Of mighty guns that held a fleet at bay;
But sorrow came upon her, and defeat,
Shut in her ashes, and a people's hope
Sank with her; and her glory passed away.
Her arms were overthrown, her flag was torn,
Her children bent their heads beneath the yoke
In bitter silence; and her chosen Chief
Was fettered in the fortress by the sea.

O rapid river, with the mighty voice,
Rave through thy hills, and wear away the rocks
Even as a people wear away the heart
In thinking on their glory and their fall.

But O the spirit of the first campaigns,
O days of life and motion!
From Rio Grande to the Chesapeake
They gathered, sweeping joyous to the fight.
The wild yell rising from the trampling charge
Tore through the ragged rifts of battle smoke
And rose above the thunder of the guns.
And as a great wave on the open sea,
That strikes a blow and leaves a wreck behind,
They swept along, a living surge of strength,
With tempest voice and crest of bayonet.
God smiled at first, then turned his face aside
And hope, that glittered like sunlit sword,
Was quenched in gloom; and they smote the foe
That rose, with strength renewed, from each defeat,
Till, broken by their victories, they fell.
For ever thin and thinner grew the ranks,
The weary march, the hungry bivouac,
The scanty blanket wet with driving sleet,
The sleepless outpost, listlessness of camp,
The longing for the loved at home—all these,
Far more than wasting battle, wasted them
Until their strength was spent—now low they lie,
And never more upon Virginia hills
Shall thrill the onset of the Southern lines.
The men that bore the bayonet and blade
Shall bear them now no more;
But Oh! to think how bright and swift they were,
And now how cold and still!

O rushing river, thou at least art free
And fit to sing a soldier's requiem,
Deep-toned and tremulous—the dirge of men
That once were tameless as thy winter flood.

When once again we stand erect and free
And we may write a truthful epitaph
A nation uttering its grief in stone,
Shall pile aloft a stately monument.
Not that their fame has need of sculptured urn.
For they have lived such lives and wrought such deeds,
As vocal history cannot lie away.
Till then shall scattered roses deck their graves
And woman's tear shall be their epitaph.

O river, though they moulder in the dust,
Let them not perish from our hearts—speak on,
And fill us with thy rushing energy.
That as the gathered freshets of the spring
Burst upward through the shackles of the ice,
So we at last may dash our fetters off—
For until then, those men have died in vain.

A western exchange says: We took a new reporter on trial yesterday. He went out to hunt items, and after being away al day returned with the following, which he said was the best he could do: "Yesterday we saw a sight that froze our muscles with horror. A hackman driving down Clark street at a rapid pace came very near running over a nurse and two children. There would have been one of the most heartrending catastrophes ever recorded had not the nurse, with wonderful forethought, left the children at home before she went out and providentially stepped into a drug store before the hack passed. Then, too, the hackman, just before reaching the crossing, thought of something he had forgot, and, turning about, drove in the opposite direction. Had it not been for this wonderful concurrence of favorable circumstances a doting father, a loving mother, and affectionate brothers and sisters would have been plunged into the deepest woe and most unutterable funeral expenses." The new reporter will be retained.

"GOD BLESS YOU."—A crippled beggar was striving to pick up some old clothing that had been thrown from the window, when a crowd of rude boys gathered about him, mimicking his awkward movements, and hooting at his helplessness and rags. Presently a noble little fellow came up, and, pushing his way through the crowd, helped the poor crippled man to pick up his gifts, and placed them in a bundle. Then as he was running away, a voice above him said, "Little boy with a straw hat, look up." A lady leaning from an upper window, said earnestly, "God bless you, my little fellow, God will bless you for that." As he walked along, he thought how glad he had made his own heart by doing good. He thought of the poor beggar's grateful looks; and last, and better than all, he could almost hear his Heavenly Father whispering, "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy." Little reader, when you have opportunity of doing good, and feel tempted to neglect it, remember the little boy with the straw hat.

CALIFORNIA STYLE.—Not long since a German was riding along Sansom street, near Sacramento, when he heard a pistol shot behind him, and heard the whizzing of a ball near him, and felt his hat shake. He turned and saw a man with a revolver in his hand, and took off his hat and found a fresh bullet hole in it.

"Did you shoot at me?" asked the German.

"Yes," replied the other party, "that's my horse; it was stolen from me recently."

"You must be mistaken," said the German; "I have owned the horse for three years."

"Well," said the other, "when I come to look at him, I believe I am mistaken. Excuse me, sir; won't you take a drink?"

FATHER SECCHI, the celebrated Roman astronomer and inventor, is now in Paris. He passes most of his time at the Exposition, where a curious clock of his invention is to be seen, which automatically marks down on a long strip of paper that is unrolled at one end and rolled up at the other, the hour, the direction and intensity of the wind, the quantity of rain that has fallen within a given time, the height of the barometer, and the hygrometric state of the atmosphere. All this work is effected by half a dozen pencils constantly in motion, and which perform their task with unerring fidelity.

Please, Miss Jones, what is the meaning of suburbs? Governess, (who is extensively crinolined.)—The outskirts of a place. Pupil, (aside to Miss J. by the door)—Then, Miss Jones, are those your suburbs?

GENERAL ORDER NO. 32.

HEADQUARTERS, 2ND MILITARY DISTRICT,
Charleston, May 30.

1. Any citizen, a qualified voter according to the requirements of the Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2nd, 1867, and the act supplemental thereto, passed March 23rd. 1867, is eligible to office in the Provisional government of North and South Carolina. All persons appointed to office will be required to take the oath prescribed by the act aforesaid and to file the same duly subscribed and sworn with the Post Commander.

2. All citizens assessed for taxes, and who shall have paid taxes for the current year, are qualified to serve as jurors. It shall be the duty of the proper civil officers, charged with providing lists of jurors, to proceed within their several jurisdictions, without delay, and ascertain the names of all qualified persons, and place them on the jury lists, and from such revised lists all jurors shall be hereafter summoned, and drawn in the manner required by law.

3. All citizens are eligible to follow any licensed calling, employment or avocation, subject to such impartial regulations as may be prescribed by municipal or other competent authority, not inconsistent with common rights and the Constitution and laws of the United States. The bond required as security shall not exceed the penal sum of one hundred dollars. One or more sureties being citizens and worth, in the aggregate, double the amount of the bond, over and above just debts, will be sufficient.

4. The Mayors of cities and other municipal and town officers, and all Sheriffs, Magistrates and Police officers, are required to be vigilant and efficient in maintaining order, and in the discharge of their duties. They will be expected to co-operate with the military authorities.

5. Post commanders may summon to their aid, whenever the ordinary means at their disposal shall not be sufficient to execute their orders, such of the civil officers, and as many of the citizens, within the territorial limits of the military post, as may be necessary, and the neglect or refusal of any person to aid and assist in the execution of the orders of the Commanding officer will be deemed a misdemeanor, punishable by such fine and imprisonment as may be imposed by a military tribunal approved by the Commanding General.

If any person shall be found drunk on the premises where liquor is sold, the license may be revoked by any magistrate. The tax imposed by the Internal Revenue laws of the United States is an additional charge and does not excuse the person from the observance of local regulations, nor exempt him from the payment of such other license fees as may be imposed by the municipal or other competent authorities.

7. All contracts heresafter made for the manufacture, sale or transportation, storage or insurance of intoxicating liquors shall within this military district be deemed and treated as against public policy, and no civil action, suit or proceedings for the enforcement of any such contract shall be entertained in any court.

8 In public conveyances on railroads, highways, streets or navigable waters, no discrimination because of color or caste shall be made, and the common rights of all citizens therein shall be recognized and respected. The violation of this regulation will be deemed a misdemeanor and render the offender liable to arrest and trial by a Military tribunal to be designated by the commanding General, besides such damages as the injured party may sue for and recover in the civil Courts.

9. The remedy by distress for rent is abolished. Where lands are leased, or let out for hire or rent, cotton, corn or other produce of the same, when severed from the land, may be impounded, but the same shall not be removed. Any cotton, corn or other produce so impounded shall be held as security for the rent or hire so claimed and may be sold in satisfaction of any judgment for the same, Provided, that any unsatisfied claim for labor bestowed upon the cultivation of such cotton, corn, or other produce, shall, in no case, be postponed to any demand for rent or hire. But to the extent of such claim for labor there shall be a lien on such cotton, corn and other produce having preference over any claim for rent or hire.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger Bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized, affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, shall elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supercede the same; and all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowlege and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, House of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each, representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on their ballots with which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5 That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session then immediately upon the next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers, and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."
